VJ Electronix Appoints Accelonix SAS as Distributor in France and North Africa

December 2011 — VJ Electronix, Inc., the leader in rework technologies and global provider of advanced X-ray inspection systems, is pleased to announce the appointment of Accelonix SAS as its exclusive distributor for rework systems in France and North Africa (Tunisia, Morocco, Algeria).

Harold Hyman and Patrick Legenre

Accelonix will join its sister company, Accelonix Iberica S.L. of Spain to represent and resell VJ Electronix products throughout France and North Africa. According to Accelonix France Business Unit Manager, Patrick Legenre, "The partner companies with whom we work are all market leaders in their fields. VJ Electronix has proved to be an extremely reliable supplier of technologically superior equipment and we are extremely pleased to be representing them."

Accelonix SAS, located northwest of Paris, has more than 20 years of experience selling and supporting equipment including ATE, AOI, solder paste print and inspection, reflow ovens, and now rework.

"Accelonix is a great fit for our global VJ Electronix sales and support team. Patrick and his company bring with them a reputation for excellence in quality products and customer satisfaction, and we are pleased to have them as our partner," said long time SRT and VJ Electronix Sales Executive, Harold Hyman.

Accelonix will represent VJ Electronix's full line of automated rework solutions throughout France, Tunisia, Morocco, and Algeria. For more information about Accelonix products and services, contact Patrick Legenre, at +33 2 32 35 64 80 or on the Web at <http://www.accelonix.fr>.
